

Our Gratitude List

Getting the opportunity to hear clients praise the team that I am so proud of . . . over and over again – Christine

Traveling the world with colleagues to learn new things and connect with new people – Jen

A team of amazing human beings who continuously support, encourage, and applaud each other in all ways – Jessica

Clients whose work gives us the opportunity to learn new subjects, systems, and strategies every year – Kate

Working with colleagues who get me – Lance

The opportunity to share laughter with our colleagues and clients, both virtually and in person – Meg

A team that understands, embraces, and embodies The ePP Way

The taco bar at our annual retreat, this time in the beautiful White Mountains of New Hampshire

Arriving to conferences this year via both the London Underground and a rental car "speeding" through Chicago traffic

Clients who feel like friends, and a team that feels like family
